

Hathway Stewart Announces National Sales Force

TORONTO (September 14, 2017)—Hathway Stewart, the new Canadian golf distribution company bringing the iconic Jones Golf Bag and Golf Nutz health snacks to golf and retail shops across Canada, has announced the formation of its national sales force for the green grass and off-course golf channels.

Working under an exclusive distribution agreement with the Jones Sports Company of Portland Oregon, Hathway Stewart is pre-booking orders for Jones Golf bags for Spring 2018 delivery. Hathway Stewart also distributes Golf Nutz, a proprietary all-natural health snack that contains a measured mix of nuts, seeds and raisins, delivering energy for golf performance without added sugar or salt.

“We are excited by the quality of the sales force that we’ve assembled— notably their experience, their networks, and their passion for golf in Canada,” said David Stewart, president of Hathway Stewart.

Cyril Zupan manages the Alberta and Prairies territory for Hathway Stewart. Zupan is coming out of retirement and returns to the golf industry after many years with Titleist and TaylorMade. Most recently, Zupan has been assisting the PGA of Alberta with professional events throughout the province. Zupan brings extensive relationships throughout Alberta and the Prairies to his role with Hathway Stewart.

Jim Loftus manages the British Columbia market. Loftus owns and distributes the Canada Golf Card and the Tee-Off Book. Both are successful discount programs that provide savings and discounts on green-fees at more than 400 clubs in British Columbia and Alberta and more than 600 clubs across the country. Earlier in his career, Loftus was an agent for Fletcher Golf and PING. Loftus is a respected veteran of the golf business, and comes from a family of accomplished golfers and industry professionals.

Mike Langley manages the Southwestern Ontario market. Langley represents Critters golf covers, Alphabroder Apparel (formerly Ash City) and Axglo pull carts. Earlier in his career, Langley was an agent for Srixon, MacGregor and the Greg Norman Company. Langley is a veteran of the industry, and plays at St. Thomas G&CC, south of London, Ontario.

Blehr MacKinley manages the Atlantic market. MacKinley is a PGA of Canada assistant golf professional at Cabot Cliffs, one of the world's top-ranked golf courses. He is moving into the golf agency business this fall, with Hathway Stewart as one of his principals. MacKinley is an avid hockey player and a Jones enthusiast.

Hathway Stewart is seeking independent agents to fill territories in Central/Eastern Ontario (including East GTA), and Quebec (including Ottawa). To learn more, visit www.hathway-stewart.com and click on the Now-Hiring link.
